

Corporate Capabilities Statement

BACKGROUND

Durable Corporation began in 1923 with the invention of the tire-link mat. A mat woven from small rectangular rubber blocks made from bias-ply tires, connected by wires. Over the years the company expanded its manufactured product line continuing to utilize the bias-ply tire as a raw material source. Each of these products contains in excess of 90% recycled content.

The company further expanded its product line by purchasing additional products to compliment the manufactured line in serving the material handling and janitorial supply industries. Regardless of product origin, internally manufactured or brokered, a commitment to product quality and customer service has always been a primary focus of Durable's operational philosophy.

Durable's current operation is located in Norwalk, Ohio with over 71,000 sq. ft. of production, warehouse and office space on over 11 acres and has been here since 1941.
